The emphasis when judging these entrants is first and foremost quality of conformation (as pertaining to the Show Pony type or the Show/Saddle Hunter-type Riding Pony) and soundness (80%). Quality movement (in relation to type) combined with manners befitting an animal bred to be a child's mount complete the criteria of a winning entrant (20%). Working entrants on the circle along with the opportunity to view the "straightness" of each entrant's action is adequate.

No workout is required. Entrants may be "stripped" of their saddles.

Would your worms win any prizes?

The foundation of healthy livestock is the soil on which pastures grow, and animals depend.

Simple really. Like using pelletised lime-based fertiliser. It gets to work quickly, increasing nutrient availability, improving soil structure and does a great job of stimulating soil biology – that means more happy worms, the number one sign your soil is healthy.

So when you're thinking of your livestock, think of the livestock under their hooves.
